About Your Host:

Island Nature Trust, a not-for-profit organization dedicated to the protection of natural areas in PEI, is hosting a free seminar for financial and legal professionals!

Why You Should Attend:

This free presentation will highlight options available for private landowners to protect their land and leave a legacy for future generations. Understanding the options, navigating the legal process, and analyzing the long-term impacts of such a large decision can be difficult for landowners to make on their own, so it's recommended that landowners make these decisions in consultation with legal and financial professionals.

What You Will Learn:

Through the seminar you will gain increased awareness of the ins-and-outs of land protection options available to your clients and be better equipped to help them through their decision-making process.

CPD: 1 Hour
